

New Liniment for Rheumatism.
Oil of wintergreen and olive oil mixed in equal parts and applied externally will give almost instant relief from pain. On account of its pleasant odor this liniment is very agreeable to use.—New York Journal

Louis Cooper
to Papa & Mary back after the golden wedding at Farmington Dear Uncle & Aunt

I will try & write a few lines in Lewis's letter we deeply sympathize with you & yours in this your sad hour of affliction she was a noble good woman a true wife & devoted Mother how those three bright little boys will miss her tender care poor Anna must be nearly heart broken they were so devoted to each other we truly deeply sympathize with him.

Aunt I am sorry to hear that you have the Rheumatism so much I cut a remedy or rather a liniment out of a paper I will send it in this letter you can get it & try it if you like. Lewis was up to the Ranch didn't get home until last night in the morning your letter was not answered

Charlotta to uncle & aunt write

Santa Rosa Aug 13 1895
Dear uncle and Aunt and all of our relatives I will attempt to answer your welcome letter which was gladly received But what sad news it contain little did we think when we were there who would be called first of what a good woman she was we all sympathize with you all in your bereavement. what a sad affliction I dept we all must pay sooner or later and the greatest of all is to be ready and waiting for that time to come we are all well we had a fine trip after leaving your place arriving at Moj. Dripes people on the Popo day valley