

Arabic language is quite hard, they say; as soon as we get a little of it learned and become accustomed to the way of the country we will move from here unless there is an opening for doing some good here. There are no Latter-day Saints in Beyrout.