

state to do that. The state has planted trees and shrubs in many areas and they just die from lack of water.

Lucille Clark: Well, when they put this highway in they planted a lot of trees and shrubs, evergreens. But most of them are dead. They just don't have the water.

Interviewer: Well, I think we better go and then set up another appointment, Orson.