Good Morning Merry Sunshine!

How do you feel today? A beautiful, coral-streaked opal sky heralds the dawn of your Birthday Anniversary. The cool, crisp air promises continued winter for us. Yesterday morning we rose to see the world blanketed in the heaviest snow of the season. The trees - a varied collection of weeping willows bowed reluctantly under their heavy burden, wires were rope-like in appearance and the general appearance was as tho' a fairy had touched the landscape with her magic wand strewn the skyline with a lacy network of white branches.

Today enough snow remains on the trees to disguise them as cotton plants - what a fabulous climate.

I'm hoping your birthday joys were complete. Am sending my present today along with one from Knaplus. Eleven in all. You can buy a car with it if you like, or a radio, or a train ticket for a weekend on S. L. C.

I will be celebrating tonight by doing some sealings in the Temple tonight as it is also Grandpa Bushman's birth anniversary & a group of us are going including Vera.

Tomorrow night I am helping put over a pageant depicting N.D.R. growth and Saturday, Oliver & I on June 23rd & 30th of the Knaphuses are doing some baptismal work.

Vera and I had to postpone our missionary meeting but hope to get started next week.

What did you think of the proposition
* we had to offer? Don't drop it from your mind without due consideration will you?

Do you hear from Lewis? you know I was just thinking the coincidence it was that you and he should both get Arizona girls. Come to think of it, she may even be a relation - everyone else around there is. Now I have it! If she lives around Taylor she must be related to Vera for Vera was born there & it's the home of her father's folks. Ha! who said we weren't a smart bunch. Tying a no. right around the 3 couples of us. And Gene Murphy is related to some Smiths in S.H. I've got to look that up

Now for my diary (incidentally it is sadly neglected.

Stayed with Vera Sun. night. Monday night skipped school & went to Dinner at Eight.

with Torleif and Aline. Honestly honey, I was too tired to study & he had been wanting me to charm more with Aline so I felt rather obliged. Please forgive?

Tuesday night I attended a Stake Mutual party on Stratford Ave. with Oliver. It was a grand affair & the most fun I've had in ages.

Tomorrow night (Fri) Don & Aline have dates from for Granite Gold & Green Ball. Knappus has his car back & says it is at my service. Would I like to have a week end off? Better watch for me hiding under one of the seats in your Sunday School.

Rec'd letters the other day from Marv & one of his old girl friends simultaneously. Marv's enjoying life, what with a dance now & then & now & then a new good-looking 'gill'. Virgil is well now & is back into mischief again.

Connie is still undecided. I have a 50¢ order from her to make a Valentine for John. Didn't think I'd be making them for other men did you?

This coming Sat. the Art Barn sponsors are staging their first annual Beaux Arts Ball - a grand costume affair.

Last night T.S.K. called for me at school and asked if I would care to go.

Didn't say definitely but a 'couple' is a 'couple' and I'd rather review my social standing than my artistic one so I'm waiting till I get a personal invitation from the committee at which time (if ever) you will be the other party. How's that?

It's lunch hour now. We're certainly busy at Kress. St. arrives ^{Tues} from the 30th.

Burbidge tells me his son, Smith, leaves Feb. 22 for Western States mission. He may even be your companion. Watch for him.

Edna Remington (office girl) says her sweetheart, ^{Wid} Davidson presided over that branch about 2 yrs ago & that he organized the original basket ball team there.

I still see 'Aunt Annie's' Telecom upstairs now & then. She sends her best wishes to you & always asks about you. She tries to check upon my behavior & say I look better than at Xmas time. X

I saw Helen, Iris & your mother for awhile yesterday.

Times' up! See you tonight under that big bright moon. Where's that birthday kiss? Here's mine -  -  forever Dorothy
